

Esther Venrooij LUCA School of Arts
Slam Your Doors in a Golden Silence

*"The walls have ears"
all places where voices reverberate give the impression that the walls are listening*

*There is no relation between what we see and what we hear.
it is not possible to listen attentively to all the sounds at once*

